-The New York Herald says tha —The New York Heraid says that the rise in gold bonds as partially in consequence of a large home damand and partially on secount of a large in quiry from the Island of Cubs, where, on account of the unsettled state of political affairs, our national securities and particularly the registered bonds, have suddenly become favorities.

SPECIE PAYMENT.—Washington dispatches bring its curious rumous about a plan of Governor Morton's for resuming specie payments, by hoarding our gold until 1871, to be then used in redeeming legal tenders. Have we no statesmen capable of confemplating a resumption at a sherter range?—New York Tribuse.
